Excerpt: .land and society, duties toward one s self, as cleanliness, temperance, economy, self-respect, modesty, the Golden Rule; duties toward God, not a course of religious instruction, but emphasizing especially two points: cultivating the feeling and habit of reverence, and a disposition of obedience to the laws of God. Throughout the whole course kindness to animals should be most Carefully taught. Some work in civics should be taken up in III. as well as IV. GROUP IV. (u-13 years.) Historic ornament is left to the discretion of the teacher, as in most cases limitations of time would exclude it from the rural school. Teachers should themselves gain such knowledge of historic ornament and of the history of art as is possible. Excellent books treating of these subjects can be easily obtained, and the knowledge thus gained will enable them to add much of interest and value to their instruction. For the complete treatment of this course it is desirable that the teacher should have had some special preparation for teaching drawing. In the rural school selections Wlll often have to be made according to circumstances and the ability of the teacher. There should be at least three lessons a week, of twenty minutes each, in Groups I. and II., and longer lessons in Groups III. and IV. Exercises included in parentheses are left to the discretion of the teacher. In all parts of the course in drawing care should be taken to cultivate an appreciation...
