Increase Summer, of Great Barrington, Mass; A Funeral Discourse In the hour of this nation s sorest need, when the powers of darkness seemed to be almost triumphant, our President was suddenly struck down by Death. Upon the day of his funeral while nearly the whole nation were in tears, I carried to the grave the body of a little boy who was unknown by many in his own native village. Looking into the grave upon that day we realized the truth of Job s words: The small and the great are there. They shall lie down alike together. The dust of one is as good as the dust of another. There is no wealth in the grave. Kings leave their sceptres. Master and slave meet there and know no distinction. The idiot and the scholar, the beggar and the millionaire, the small and the great are there. Death hesitates not to bid the man of business lay down his ledger, the warrior his sword, or the judge his ermine. No insignia of rank, or marks of beauty, or proofs of usefulness stop him as he summons his followers, one by one, and marches on. O what a mighty host is the army that he gathers!
